DETAILED ACTION

This office action is in response to Applicant's amendment filed 12/15/2005.

Status of Claims

- [1] Claims 1-10 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

- [2] The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

- [3] Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as clearly anticipated by Ader, US-58,743,670, because the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, or in public use or on sale in this country more than one (1) year prior to the application for patent in the United States.

The shape and appearance of Ader is identical in all material respects to that of the claimed design, Hupp v. Siroflex of America Inc., 122 F.3d 1456, 43 USPQ2d 1887 (Fed. Cir. 1997).

As for Claim 1, Ader teaches of a structural fastener, comprising:

a tubular retainer (120) being adapted for one-way passage into a socket;

a fastening member (50) slidably extending through said retainer (120), said fastening member (50) having helical threads at its top (52) and a protrusion at its bottom (40); and, a compressed spring (140) being positioned atop said retainer (120), and being separated by said retainer (120) from said protrusion (40) for urging said protrusion (40) into engagement with the bottom of said retainer (Fig. 8) and for urging said helical threads (52) from the top of said retainer (Fig. 4).

Re: Claim 2, wherein said tubular retainer (120) and said fastening member (50) are keyed (32) such that they cannot rotate relative to one another.

Allowable Subject Matter

[4] Claims 6-10 are allowed.

Claims 3-5 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Reasons for Allowance

[5] The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: As for Claim 10, the prior art, either alone or in combination with corresponding limitations as stated above, fails to teach or disclose of the exact specifications of the tubular sleeve with shoulders; pair of wedges with serrated rim and plurality of outwardly and upwardly extending teeth; fastening member with flange, helical threads, protrusion, and keyed portion for slidable positioning; polygonal cross-sections for deterring turning, and spring for urging the above elements in their respective directions as a collective functioning device. Claim 6 is allowable since it incorporates that the wedge has a serrated rim with a plurality of outwardly and upwardly extending teeth; there being no motivation to alter the wedge shape of Alder, or that of other prior art, to include such a feature. Claims 7-9 are dependent therefrom Claim 6.

Response to Arguments

[6] Applicant's arguments filed 12/15/2005 regarding rejections under 35 U.S.C. 102 have been fully considered but are considered moot due to the above application of Ader to the newly amended claim 1.

Art Unit: 3677

Conclusion

[7] Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
